Brand Ambassador

Ms. Ritika Singh is a notable figure in both international kickboxing and the Indian film industry. Her skills in these fields have been honed under the guidance of her esteemed father, Mr. Mohan Singh. Following her representation of India at the Asian Indoor Games in 2009, where she garnered immense admiration and emerged as one of the top fighters, winning over the hearts of many.

She was honored with a Special Mention at the 63rd National Film Awards 2016 for her exceptional performance in the film. Furthermore, she has received numerous accolades, including the prestigious Filmfare Award for her outstanding work in the movie 'SaalaKhadoos'.

We are honored to have Ms. Ritika Singh join us as the brand ambassador for WAKO India Kickboxing Federation. Her continued support and motivation have been invaluable to our athletes. We express our gratitude for her participation in both the 1st and 2nd WAKO Indian Open International Kickboxing Tournament. We sincerely hope that she will continue to support us for a next-ended duration.

ABOUT

SPORTS FOR WOMEN

Sports For Women has encouraged sports all over the country thus allowing the population to harness the power of sports through its cross-cutting influence, namely, holistic development of children & youth and women in specific, Community development, social integration, gender equality, healthy lifestyle, national pride and economic opportunities related to sports development. The increasing rates of female athletes' participation in sports events help to counter gender biases. Furthermore, it has been observed that women that do sports and participate in National League, besides improving their physical & mental health, are more likely to overcome biases, feel empowered and develop leadership skills.
